New OSHA Standards For Personal Fall Protection

Did you know, OSHA issued new standards for low and high lift trucks?
New standards take effect immediately and include provisions for Personal Fall Protection Systems.

NEW STANDARDS INCLUDE PERSONAL FALL PROTECTION BASED ON THE OPERATOR'S WEIGHT

- » Operators over 220lbs must wear a full-body harness and a retractable or an energy-absorbing lanyard
- » Fixed length tethers are no longer allowed

For more information on new standards or to find equipment that will ensure you are compliant, contact Stoffel Equipment today: 800-354-7502 (email: parts@stoffelequip.com)

At Stoffel Equipment we are committed to continuous education, because we understand:
